

The Shroud on the Internet

Spring 2025

Although this section is not as extensive as the videos and audios section mentioned above, there are still multiple pages of links to new internet content in today's update! Of course, we can't include everything on this page, so we have once again created a separate pdf file that you can download and view at your convenience (see link below). Items in that file are listed in chronological order with the most recent at the top of the list.

Documentary: Shroud of Turin – Randy Altig – TBN: This excellent 55-minute documentary, mainly featuring Turin mathematician and sindonologist Dr. Bruno Barberis, was first broadcast on TBN in October 2024. It is available by downloading from the App store the “TBN +” app. Once installed, enter “Shroud of Turin” in search box and the documentary will come in a list of various programs listed.

New Shroud documentary on EWTN network and now available online through their app: There is a new documentary on the Shroud, titled “The Shroud of Turin” from EWTN Studios, directed by Nathan Leon, which aired during the Easter season. This documentary includes a recreation of the crucifixion and resurrection scenes with emphasis on the mystery of the Shroud. The experts interviewed for this documentary include Dr. Cheryl White, Fr Robert Spitzer, and Fr Peter Mangum.”

New companion website to British Society for the Turin Shroud Newsletter – April 20, 2025
- The BSTS has launched a new companion website <https://shroudofturin.uk>. The website has been designed to be suitable for those new to the Shroud of Turin as well as those seeking a far more in depth look at the scientific and historical evidence. It also explains why the markings on the Shroud are entirely compatible with gospel accounts of the passion, crucifixion and resurrection.
