

STOP PRESS

Information has reached us from a West Country member that the BBC are repeating their TV production QED, featuring an investigation into the Shroud, at the end of August. Members are advised to keep a close check, as the date is uncertain at present.