

DR. ROBERT H. DINEGAR holds a chemistry degree from Cornell University, a PhD in Physical Chemistry from Columbia University, and a theological degree from the College of Santa Fe. He was ordained a Priest by The Episcopal Church in 1962. He serves concurrently as a Research Physical Chemist at the Los Alamos National Laboratory and as the Associate Rector of Trinity on the Hill Episcopal Church in Los Alamos. An original member of The Shroud of Turin Research Project, he is the author of over 20 papers in the scientific and religious literature.

REV. ANDRE FEUILLET, well known for his exegetical studies, is Docent at the Catholic Institute of Paris.